- Inform you of the assessed value of your property for tax year 2022-23, and tell you how to challenge it if you believe there is a mistake.
- Explain how property taxes are calculated.
- Provide an estimate of your property tax for tax year 2022-23.

Please keep a copy of this notice with your records. You may also view your NOPV and property tax bills online at www.nyc.gov/nopv.

ESTIMATED 2022-23 PROPERTY TAX

We cannot calculate your 2022-23 property tax until the new tax rate is established by the city council. Until then, you will pay the 2021-22 rate. The table below estimates the amount you will owe by multiplying the taxable value of your property by the current tax rate of 10.755%. This table is provided for informational purposes only; the actual amount you owe may differ.

Please note that property tax abatements, including the co-op/condo abatement, are not included in this estimate. If you receive any abatements, they will be subtracted from your property taxes. Check your July tax bill for the value of any abatements you receive.

Year	Taxable Value		Tax Rate	=	Estimated Property Tax

ABOUT YOUR PROPERTY TAXES

Property taxes are determined using a complex formula that takes into account many different amounts and calculations. Visit www.nyc.gov/nopv for more information about property valuation and taxation.

Your property is a commercial lot within a condominium that the Department of Finance estimates has a market value of $20,738 as of January 5, 2022.

The Department of Finance estimates your property's market value using the income approach. We determine the market value for the commercial lots in your condominium building or development.

We estimate total rent for all of the commercial lots in your condominium building or development as $266,574.

We estimate total expenses for all of the commercial lots in your condominium building or development as $30,773.

We subtract the estimated expenses from the estimated rent and divide the result by a capitalization rate of 14.33%.

We estimate that as of January 5, 2022, the market value for all of the commercial lots in your condominium building or development is $1,646,000.

We estimate the rent for your condominium lot as $279 per month.

The market value of your lot was derived by attributing a portion of the total commercial value. The Department of Finance uses the gross square footage of the suffix to determine your value.

This is done by adjusting your percentage interest in the total building to reflect your interest in the commercial portion only. Your percentage interest in the building is 0.234%. This percentage is multiplied by 5.383 because the total condominium interests are 100%, but the commercial portion is 18.576% (100% / 18.576%). The resulting percentage is multiplied by the total commercial value in the building or development to determine the value of your lot.

Visit www.nyc.gov/nopv for more information.

If you own income-producing property, you must file a Real Property Income and Expense (RPIE) statement or a claim of exclusion unless you are exempt by law. You must also file information about any ground or second floor commercial units on the premises, even if you are exempt from filing an RPIE statement. The deadline to file is June 1, 2022. Failure to file will result in penalties and interest, which will become a lien on your property if they go unpaid. Visit www.nyc.gov/rpie for more information.

How You Will Be Billed:

Property tax bills are mailed quarterly for properties with an assessed value of $250,000 or less and semiannually for properties assessed at more than $250,000. If you pay your property taxes through a bank, mortgage servicing company, or co-op board, you will not receive a bill from the Department of Finance unless you are responsible for other charges, such as sidewalk or emergency repair charges.
